

ABOUT ARTISTRY IN MOTION, INC.

Artistry In Motion is a collaboration of highly skilled artisans that provide the highest quality props and dressing, as well as offering historical consultation and art direction for films, television productions, and museum displays. Artistry In Motion was founded in 2008 to fill a void in the film, television, and display fabrication fields. Noticing a lack of knowledgeable, highly motivated and dedicated persons available to the arts industry, we set out to create a company that would gather historians, researchers, fabricators, and artisans who could not only work together, but also accomplish projects on a museum quality level.

Armoring and Technical Advising Services

Artistry In Motion provides top-notch firearms and weapons handling for the entertainment industry. AIM employs trained specialists who are experienced with weapons, and can also provide proper technical training to production talent. We also have a wide network of contacts to ensure the ability to find whatever weapon is required for a film, TV production, or exhibit.

NOTICE: All Artistry In Motion live firearms rentals must be accompanied by an AIM trained professional, who will supervise their use on set/location. All state, local, and Federal firearms laws will be adhered to.

AIM retains the right to refuse firearms or other weapons to any person, persons, or production.

Museums and Exhibits

A portion of AIM's work lies with museum contracts and exhibits.

Bringing our experience with screen-quality items to the museum world, we are able to provide and produce high quality macroartifacts and cast figure clothing and accouterments.

Whether it be finding the correct buttons for a Revolutionary War-era British uniform or reproducing missile pods for a Vietnam Bell helicopter, Artistry In Motion can make it happen.

Art Direction

The art director of a production or exhibit is responsible for the overall aesthetic of the project, following the production designer's lead to build the look of the production.

Artistry In Motion has fulfilled art direction needs on a variety of productions set in a wide range of time periods, including many historical pieces that demanded attention to even the most minute details.

With our team of artisans and inventory of props and set decoration, AIM can both employ positions and provide the materials needed to build an aesthetically beautiful and accurate production.

Prop Rentals

Artistry In Motion strives to maintain a stock of props and set decoration that are either original items or reproductions manufactured with the highest quality and attention to the pieces they are made to represent.

While we have many items going to and from productions at any given point, AIM still maintains an inventory of nearly 5000 items. These pieces are accurate to time periods ranging from modern day, all the way back to pre-17th Century.

If we do not currently have a particular item a production requires in stock, this piece can either be sourced or manufactured by one of our craftsmen.

Please contact us for details on rental and manufacturing rates.

Artistry In Motion supplied uniforms, accouterments, and weapons for photography and cast figures for the National Infantry Museum, US Army Museum Support Center, and the Military Police Corps Regimental Museum.
